

Rich Marshall - BIO

Rich Marshall spent the first several years of his career serving as a Pastor; the last 20 plus years in San Jose Ca where he was pastor for a large congregation. During his time in San Jose he led in the establishment of several congregations and saw dozens of missionaries sent around the world in Kingdom work. During these very fruitful years in ministry the Lord began to reveal to him the very powerful aspect of marketplace ministry.

In 1999 he resigned as pastor of his local congregation and began an itinerant ministry to business leaders, revealing to them the call to serve the Lord through their work. He has authored three books: God@Work, God@Work II and most recently God@Rest. These books are now published in several languages and are continuing to have an impact around the world.

After a few years of conference ministry, the Lord began to lay on his heart the need to take his knowledge and skills into the corporate setting, especially to deal with ethics issues and people skills in the workplace. Since 2005, he has been working extensively with business leaders around the world, in over 50 countries at this time. For nearly two years he focused his attention in the Caribbean where he was called to serve as a leadership and management consultant to several companies. He was called to Barbados by a strong Kingdom minded business owner to provide leadership with a spiritual emphasis to all of his hundreds of employees in 13 nations in the Caribbean. While coaching, consulting and speaking fill his time currently; he has just begun production of a weekly television program; God@Work on the GodTV network. This program is available online at www.god.tv/work.

Rich and his wife Wilma now live in Castle Rock, CO.
