

Michael and Kathryn Redman - BIO

Michael and Kathryn Redman are co-founders of Half a Bubble Out Marketing, and creators of HaBO Village, a membership website that helps leaders build Passion & Provision® companies full of profit and joy. For more than 17 years they've helped business leaders locally, nationally and internationally grow their companies through traditional and digital marketing, business coaching, and leadership development, making millions of dollars for their clients across industries such as property management, medical, agriculture, and various non-profits.

Michael and Kathryn also founded an international e-commerce company in the pet industry that has grown 3X a year since 2014; taught a master's class in marketing at Simpson University; are 4-time Telly Award winners for video and television commercial production; and their agency is a Certified Partner of The ASK Method, Digital Marketer and HubSpot.