

Candace Mae Gruber – BIO 2022

International best-selling author of the book Heaven Within Restoring Wholeness for Better Leadership, and Powerhouse Women: Survivor to Thriver, Candace Mae knows that to achieve and exceed goals, we must communicate and collaborate at a world-class level. An MSIT graduate with decades of corporate experience and an inexhaustible love for life and the Lord, Candace Mae spends her time now as a consultant, mentor, executive coach, workshop facilitator, and keynote speaker.

Her passion for guiding people to discover, maximize and lead with their strengths is palpable, and her energy is only outmatched by her experience and education. After 20+ years as a Senior Project Manager for both corporate and higher educational institutions, she has developed expert cross-functional leadership, administrative, and teaching skills in a broad base of business industries.

Candace Mae is the founder of Candace Mae Leadership Development Training and Services and has also pursued a prestigious certification as a Maxwell Leadership Certified Team Member, adding proven Leadership strategies for her client's needs. Candace Mae uses her life experiences, both personally and professionally, to relate to her clients and audiences in heartwarming, humorous, and human ways.

A mother, grandmother, trainer, author and professional 'liver-of-life', Candace Mae has the experience, education, and energy to help individuals and teams better their best. She lives on a working ranch in North San Diego County near her two daughters and three grandchildren, and in her free time you can find her singing, dancing, and always sporting her favorite color purple.
