

Ed Delph – BIO

Dr. Ed Delph has been responding to God's call to the church, community, and to the nations for 43 years. He pastored three different churches in Phoenix, Arizona, from 1980-2000.

A noted author of ten books, weekly columnist for five different newspapers in the Phoenix area, teacher, business owner, speaker, and thought leader in faith in culture, Ed has traveled extensively and been in, or ministered in, over one hundred countries and is a proven leader and presenter inside and outside of the church.

Dr. Delph is the president of a worldwide ministry called NationStrategy; a nonprofit organization involved in community and societal transformation and upliftment. Ed's ministry turns Church Goers into City Changers.

NationStrategy reveals Strategies and Truth that Transform Culture, Church, Business, Government, Education, and Media. This is being done through conferences and church meetings, teaching, coaching, and mentoring.

NationStrategy is a resource ministry to and for other ministries, equipping the ministries to be better at what they are called to do.
